

EDITOR'S INBOX

A WHOLE NEW WORLD

My son, Will, joined President Tom Galligan on the amazing journey to Nepal in January. After reading Tom's letter in the spring 2016 issue of Colby-Sawyer, I wanted to reach out. Thank you, Tom, for allowing Will to be part of that once-in-a-lifetime adventure. It was so important for him to see not only where his former roommate and good friend Bibek comes from but to see a whole other world up close. Your letter expressed exactly how I know Will felt both going and returning from the trip. He is forever changed, and it was a privilege for him to be among such a caring group of friends. I feel blessed that Will is part of the Colby-Sawyer community. What a perfect fit it has been for him. I wish you and your family well in your new chapter, and thank you for all you have done for Colby-Sawyer College.

AT THE TOP

Lots of change on campus, as reported in the spring 2016 issue of Colby-Sawyer. In terms of both design and content, the issue rates at the TOP of those I have seen in what is now pushing 40 years.

EYE-CATCHING

I am in awe of how you continually raise the standard of excellence with each issue of Colby-Sawyer. The uniqueness of the college is captured through a wealth of information that informs but never overwhelms the reader. The rich layout and diverse selection of eye-catching articles helps each issue stand out as a snapshot of Colby-Sawyer. I couldn't be more proud of the team for its outstanding efforts.

CHARGER PRIDE

Stellar, beautiful, honest and hopeful ... these are the words I use to describe the spring issue. Makes me proud of Colby-Sawyer!

PROUD PARENTS

As parents of a graduating senior who was a four-year athlete, we wanted to congratulate you and your staff for producing a quality magazine — especially the spring issue, which highlighted our daughter's accomplishments. We will miss the community at Colby-Sawyer.
